More Telegraph

The Victoria Colonist publishes a letter from the President of the California State Telegraph Company, from which it appears that that Company [illegible] tend its lines to Victoria, if encouragement is given sufficient to justify the expense The letter says "that the incomplete line from Yreka in California through the State of Oregon to Fort Vancouver, in Washington Territory, which has been for two or three years in course of construction, has just passed under the control of this company, and will be completed within a few weeks Thence to Victoria a line would be very expensive, and could not be remunerative for many years to come. If therefore this company undertakes to build the line it will ask some assistance from the people of Vancouver Island and British Columbia, by way of cash subscriptions, to be refunded in telegraphing or in the full paid stock of this company, which pays regular and certain dividends But the principal aid or encouragement to be sought for at that end of the line will be a grant from the Government of such privileges as will secure the line for a reasonable number of years against competition between Victoria and San Francisco—contingent, of course, upon the line being completed within a certain period, to be clearly specified No subsidies will be asked for from the Government, nor any franchises that can in any way interfere with the proposed line across the continent through British Territory"

The distance over which the proposed line would extend is about 250 miles, and as that portion of it between Olympia and Victoria might be submarine, and thus cost comparatively little, the investment would undoubtedly before long yield a fair income We notice also in some of our Eastern exchanges, that the new Hudson Bay Company is preparing to set the poles for the telegraph line between Fort Garry and Puget Sound, at the opening of the spring The wire for this route is already ordered and is reported to be at Montreal on its way to the Red river settlement. It would seem, therefore, that next year, there will be no lack of facilities for obtaining news, from all directions. We hope, however, there will be more regularity than has been exhibited on the California route, which has a name to live, but is most essentially dead, for the greater part of the time, though the letter from which we have quoted says that as "the California State Company owns all the telegraph lines and franchises in the States and Territories west of the Rocky Mountains, there can be no doubt as to its ability or intentions" That may be so, but if it is, we should like some better proof of these, than we have had for the last year

Archbishop Purcell

This distinguished prelate of the Roman Catholic Church in Ohio, having been denounced by certain secession organs for voting with the Union party, recently made an address explaining his political course We quote a portion of it, as it is eminently deserving of commendation, and shows him to be a most sensible man and a faithful patriot We wish the country had many more like him, as we are sure that such counsels and influence would do much to eradicate the prejudice which exists in the minds of many of our Irish citizens, and hinder the possibility of any more such riots as that which disgraced New York last summer.

The Archbishop said "he had voted against the Democratic ticket, not because he desired to wound the Democrats of his acquaintance, nor because he desired to propitiate their opponents, but because he feared that if Vallandigham was elected, the attempted withdrawal of Ohio soldiers in the field with Rosecrans, would ensue, and that the State of Ohio would be tossed with revolutionary opposition to the war policy." He feared that raids would be invited, the parallel of which might be found in Quantrell's barbarous and inhumane invasion of Kansas "This may all have been fancy," said the speaker, "but it was my honest opinion, and who in God's name could ask me to cast my vote for the inauguration of such anarchy and such atrocity?"

But he had heard that among a large number of our laboring men there were apprehensions that if the slaves were liberated they would come to our Northern cities and displace thousands of honest, hard working white men For himself, he did not anticipate any such result In his opinion it was impossible. He had always wished to see every man, no matter what his color, free The Catholic Church has ever been the friend of universal freedom It was Christ's mission to set men free, and Christian people disregarded his precepts and example when they seek to uphold or perpetuate involuntary servitude Cardinal Wiseman, whom he regarded as possessing the loftiest intellectual endowments, and many of the distinguished Catholic magnates of Europe, looked upon the slavery of any race with the strongest disfavor Montalembert had stood before an audience of great Catholics and declared that a man who holds human beings, black or white, in bondage, was the enemy of freedom and a tyrant at heart The democratic [illegible] was received with uproarious plaudits not one of that distinguished Catholic assembly but responded with undisguised approval

In conclusion, he said he hoped now that the excitement was over, that his friends would all concede that he had performed his plain duty. He had conceived his course he had adopted to be such and fearlessly he had pursued it No man could do less and be sincere no man could do less than follow the lectures of his own conscience, if he hopes to win the approval of his Heavenly Master and Guide

FROM THE KOOTENAY COUNTRY —We have seen in some of our cotemporary papers [illegible] ing accounts of the arrival of gold from the Kootenay country, and the brilliant mining prospects there We are sure that gold has not yet been brought from the Kootenay region in any large amounts A reliable informant, however, has seen prospects which were exceedingly flattering, and which, it was supposed, would yield $5, $10 and $15 a [illegible] order The supposed new gold region is quite extensive, is easily reached from Colville by wagons, and supplies can be carried to the mines over good natural roads We do not believe, however, that the discoveries already made, should cause a stampede of miners to the Kootenay. In the ensuing season the value of the mines will be tested, and if they should prove all that is expected of them, in the fall of 1864, and the spring thereafter, miners in large numbers can wend their way to the Kootenay with confidence Our attentive correspondent in Colville Valley has furnished us with the following late and interesting news from the Kootenay

COLVILLE VALLEY, Nov 10th, 1863 —Mr Lurd has just returned from the Kootenay country to which in this Valley He went out this fall with the Hudson Bay Company's train I saw him yesterday He says the Kootenay country is far better than the Boise country in its mines He has no doubt their great extent and richness, and is making his arrangements to return early in the spring I may also state that Mr Thomas Stonger one of the most prominent men in this Valley, has received a letter from an old friend Mr Manning who is now living on the head of the Kootenay, and near the base of the Rocky Mountains In this letter Mr Manning says that two men and a boy all half breeds came by his camp a few days before, and they had some $500 in coarse gold The people had been only a few days in the Kootenay country—having come from the Spokane Mr Manning further writes that he would go up to the place where they found the gold as fall but that he would not be able to wash on account of cold weather The snow had then fallen to one depth We are at a point here to learn all reliable news from the Kootenay and I give you all that I can rely on

This Valley is in somewhat of an excited state on account of the murder of a white man somewhere about Kettle River, by an Indian named Stampfus Nay Ramsdill is making every possible effort to catch the murderer We hope he will succeed in it that the Indian will be punished Stampfus was a bad Indian and his arrest and punishment would have a very beneficial effect upon the Indians in these parts

DESOLATION OF WAR —Horschell V Johnson, who was a candidate for Vice President with Stephen A Douglas, lately made a speech in the Confederate Senate in which he said

When is this struggle to end? Shall we conquer the North? No, we have no desire to do this Shall the North conquer us? Forbid it, Heaven! But I tell you that this war will never be ended till we are all conquered by the chastening hand of Providence, and we are brought back to the virtues of our forefathers Though our armies have been victorious in nearly every battle, yet almost every man and woman is bathed in tears and cast down with sorrow at the loss of some friend or kinsman most dear Every hearthstone is reft of its enjoyments by mourning and weeping, and the wail of sadness are heard all over the land This is the chastisement of God inflicted upon us for a departure from the path of virtue This is the lesson of the hour Then let us return with humility to the practice of those great virtues which our fathers cherished and by which our liberties cannot be maintained

If Johnson had added, that the misfortunes and afflictions of the South were a judgment for its infamous treason, he would have given good advice—as stated, however, he leaves the most heinous sin unmentioned, though he knows as well as any one, its enormous and atrocious guilt

COLLECTOR FOR WASHINGTON TERRITORY DISTRICT —Philip D Moore, Esq formerly Deputy Collector of Customs at Port Angeles, and who was recently appointed Collector of Internal Revenue to succeed Major H A Goldsborough, resigned has already taken possession of his office at Olympia We understand he is very warmly welcomed by the people of the Territory, especially on the Sound, as his accommodating and successful discharge of his duties at the Custom House has made him deservedly popular There is no opposition, nor was there, to his appointment, and we heartily wish him success in his office Mr Moore has brought his family out with him, intending to make Washington Territory his future home, and, as we have already stated, brought to San Francisco, as Special Agent of the Government, one million dollars for disbursement on this coast, and fifty thousand dollars of revenue stamps

THE REBEL MODE OF SECURING SUPPLIES —Confederate money having become practically worthless, a nameless South Carolina states man proposes to dispense with money altogether This plan is very simple, and seems to be about the only alternative left to the Confederacy if it means to exist much longer He would have the Confederacy take possession of all the provisions and supplies in the South, keep what it wants for its armies, and distribute the balance among the people

The graduates of a college class of some ten years ago, tell a story of the late Prof Cleveland The Professor was getting quite animated in some illustrations, when his great compound blow pipe retort, or whatever it was, burst just as the grand principle in science was being made plain, and nearly destroyed the Professor himself Pulling the pieces of glass out of his hair and clothes the Professor said 'Gentlemen, an accident has happened but the principle remains the same as I have described to you'

A SPLENDID —An agent of Barnum just returned from the recent Pomeroy tour, says that in all the rural districts of the State the people [illegible] the sole topic The women [illegible] the farmers enthusiastic which rests [illegible] Collector of the Port Like most all Western towns [illegible] the community [illegible] the Union States pronounced patriotic in such an extent as this preference the Union [illegible] the Colonies in harmony with the prosperity of the proper the river are [illegible] died to lose from one eighth to one quarter of one per cent [illegible] which will make their payments into the Treasury —New York Times

From Japan.

On 24th September their Excellencies Duke Gerolf von Polesbrook the Minister for the North Germany and Gentleman Consul Netherlands Minister received an invitation and left Yokohama Monday conference with the [illegible] the [illegible] to [illegible] Yokohama [illegible] Minister Minister proceeded [illegible] H M Ministry Minister

Immediately after reception conducted into the presence the Gorogio all whom were all the members of the Council Chamber also the Governor of Nagasaki [illegible] Minister [illegible] another high officials Work that in the dining room of these officials a marked change in their [illegible] rather than that usually [illegible] countenances with generally has hitherto been [illegible] the [illegible] future, was prevailing throughout

Their letters having been [illegible] by a very important communication from the Gorogio The order of expulsion issued by said the Gorogio was rescinded After some ordinary [illegible] however the real object of the sought interview came out But said the Gorogio "If trade continues to be carried on in Yokohama a revolution will ensue in the country therefore the trade must be transferred to Nagasaki and Hiogo"

The Ministers naturally asked if the Government were not able to put down such revolution which they said threatened the country

The Gorogio answered It was a very great shame to them but they could not! The Gorogio further added that they had appointed two Plenipotentiaries (one of whom is Takanato Kaimokami, the other our old friend not known) But believes to be always young governor to [illegible] Ministers of Foreign Powers why Plenipotentiaries must leave Yokohama and [illegible] the terms of their leaving

The Ministers expressed their great surprise that on a subject of such vast importance the Gorogio had not communicated to the British and French Ministers, to which the Gorogio replied that they had communicated first with the representatives of Holland and the United States and the [illegible] [illegible] that they should of course, [illegible] their conversation to their respective Governments

The Gorogio — But on the Ministers reply of that one [illegible] up the settlement at Yokohama without [illegible] their Governments? Foreigners could go to Nagasaki and there the treaties will remain in force The treaties will [illegible] foreigners had also been made an experiment to see if trade with foreigners would answer for Japan

The Gorogio being asked what steps had been taken towards negotiating the Prince of Sangatto to pay indemnity for his recent attack upon foreign vessels answered No thing [illegible] was done but they were busily engaged in this matter In Japan these things could not be done at once, as was Japanese custom to do these things more slowly

The high officers present were Meiji of Izumi no kami Oshi Kawa no kami Ando Tsushima no kami Inabi Kawachi no kami, Muwaye Kawachi no kami and Mimi Tootomi no Kami

The first mention of body guard [illegible] was made by the Gorogio [illegible] Yokohama [illegible] Tycoon has made his peace with the Mikado and will shortly return to Yedo

But the great topic of news [illegible] is that Prince Satsuma with [illegible] of [illegible] this city on coming [illegible] Yokohama [illegible] The Tycoon has now [illegible] Hiogo [illegible] after the Christmas [illegible] launch of heavily armed

The Tycoon has made his peace with the Mikado and will shortly return to Yedo

But the great topic of news [illegible] is that Prince Satsuma with [illegible] of [illegible] this city on coming [illegible] Yokohama [illegible] The Tycoon has now [illegible] Hiogo [illegible] after the Christmas [illegible] launch of heavily armed

We have news from Nagasaki [illegible] importance The Governor Tomaka [illegible] and [illegible] to China to engage to purchase a large man-of-war steamer All was quiet at the moment but that was fast decaying away by low class and imports bought a fair [illegible] The Japanese merchants were still [illegible] good [illegible] consequence of the [illegible] Satsuma [illegible] the trade through the Straits

The Governor Okubi Bugonoshami having incurred the Mikado for her trip hither brought with him a staff of 13 officers, and it is said a great quantity of firearms

GOOD TALK —In the course of Henry Ward Beecher's speech at Exeter, he said

Standing by my cradle stand up by my hearth stand[illegible] by the altar of the Church standing by all the places that touch the name and memory of heroic men will pour their blood and lives for principle I declare that in ten or twenty years of war we will sacrifice everything we have for principle [Cheers] If the love of popular liberty is dead in Great Britain you will not understand us but if the love of liberty lives as it ever lived and has worthy our assets of those renowned upon that were our ancestors as much as yours and [illegible] examples and principles we inherit to make [illegible] and [illegible] and forfeits [illegible] then you will understand our firm invincible determination [illegible] as the sea firm as the mountains, but calm as the heavens as we use to fight this war through, at all hazards and at every cost [Immense cheering, accompanied with a few hisses]

DEPARTURE OF THE PACIFIC —The steamer did not get her freight on board until a very late hour last night, and it was impossible for her the freight Clerk or Purser to get an exact list of what her cargo consisted until she had fairly got away She had 60 head beef cattle, [illegible] sheep, some 4,000 boxes apples and several hundred packages merchandise, including eggs, butter, poultry, fruit trees, &c, enough to fill her up with live stock and a goodly quantity of other freight is intended for Victoria.

SHIPMENT OF TREASURE —Wells, Fargo & Co shipped on the Pacific yesterday, the sum of $130,000 Allen & Lewis, Agents for the steamer, had on their treasure freight list $45,000 making [illegible] $235,000 There was, without doubt, quite a large amount in the hands of passengers, a portion of whom about 150 went on board here

ACCIDENT TO THE STEAMER E. D. BAKER —The steamer E D Baker, while on her way from Oregon City to this place with about 12 passengers and a large freight, lost her steering oar in the eddy opposite the claim of A. Walling, Esq, near two miles above Oswego, and went broadside on to a rock, punching such a hole in her side that she would sink in three minutes, had she not, by a dexterous movement, been turned partially on her nose put on the beach. The accident occurred at about 10 o'clock, yesterday morning The passengers reached the shore by a boat from her bow, and it is said her freight will be saved without damage The stern of the steamer lies in about two fathoms of water

The steamer Rival had passed on her trip shortly before the disaster, and immediately returned to the Baker's assistance, taking on board the passengers, and towing them to town last evening During the day yesterday, the most extravagant rumors regarding the accident were afloat, but now understand that the boat will be readily and repaired at a comparatively trifling

A MYSTERY UNRAVELED —We yesterday witnessed the picking up by parties on the bank of the John H Couch, of a floating bundle of female wearing apparel Last evening we were informed that the apparel had been purchased for and worn by a courtezan in accordance with a previous agreement between the high contracting parties to a marriage for that matter. The "head of the house" had in addition to about $500 in external ornamentation a fair paramour, conditioned upon her remaining true till spring, but on repairing to their "home" on Saturday night, found his paramour had taken a fancy to some "other fellow" The enraged husband pro tem took such articles he had purchased, and using his bowie knife freely upon the different articles, bundled them under his arm, and proceeding to the river bank, threw them overboard. So ends the mystery and "marriage."

LADIES' FAIR AND SUPPER —The ladies of the M E Church in this city are to have a Fair and Supper at Thompson's Hall, Washington street, between First and Second, on next Thursday evening They are going to have a good time, and want everybody to enjoy it with them With the admission fee of fifty cents, and a tip-top supper at only one dollar, (child from half price,) everybody ought to go, and take their wives and babies [illegible] who have not got wives might get them a [illegible]. Stranger things have happened.

SAND DUST RECEIPTS —The Wilson G. Hunt put down seventy-five pounds of dust in the hands of Mr. Holland, Wells, Fargo & Co's Express Messenger. Sixty pounds came down, but how much gold dust [illegible] quien sabe?

COULDN'T RESIST THE TEMPTATION —The took the new hose carriage of Jackson Co No 1, of the Dalles, down to the Wilson G. Hunt last night, to go up river this [illegible] They could n't refrain from giving it a "lively turn" along Front street, and if the Dalles boys make it travel any faster, they'll have to "get up and dust."

MASONIC ELECTION —The following gentlemen were last evening elected officers of Harmony Lodge, No 12, F. & A. M., for the ensuing Masonic year Rev. Thos. H. Pearne, M, A G Walling, S W, O B Gibson, J W, S M Lyon, Treasurer, J. W. Jordan, Secretary

RESCUING A SOLDIER —We are informed that about 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, a [illegible] was seen in an alley way leading from Front street near Morrison, very drunk and [illegible] naked, exchanging a new suit of [illegible] clothing with some one who was not drunk, and who, from the subsequent [illegible] apparent expressions of the doubtless drugged victim, had not only taken his clothes, but robbed him of what money he possessed

GREAT AMUSEMENT.—We understand that a row [illegible] a fracas occurred at the lower end of Front street on Sunday, between a Chinaman and [illegible] inferior "whites" Science and strength prevailed, and the Celestial retreated in good order, but his "train" was very much scattered and probably some portions of it lost.

WILLAMETTE THEATRE —It will be seen by the advertising columns, that Miss Morgan will again appear this evening, gratifying the wishes of admiring friends We learn that Mr W H Leighton who was expected by the last steamer, on account of the recent death of her husband, and, for the present, withdrawn from the theatrical engagements, those who know her will deeply sympathize with her bereavement The Masons of San Francisco, with whom Mr Leighton was connected by fraternal bonds, most generously made provision for his burial and will take charge of her welfare so long as it may be necessary

THERE appears to be an impression among the tax payers of the city conveyed by some person that the Common Council have no authority to levy a special tax unless the same is first submitted to a vote of the people whether special tax shall be levied or not Therefore for the purpose of showing innocent persons that they are misled in the matter and that it rests only in the means of their saving five per cent and probably more we publish section 8 of Article 4 of the City Charter also section 3 to wit

The Mayor and Common Council shall have power with ... to levy and collect a tax not to exceed one half ... per cent per annum on all real and personal property made taxable by law for city purposes, ...

Sec 9 The Common Council shall have power to levy and collect taxes and licenses, not exceeding one half of one per cent on all the taxable property of the city when required such additional revenue shall be required for some specific object The Common Council shall not create any indebtedness by loan or otherwise in any specific year to exceed ... per cent ...

The ordinance levying the special tax sets forth clearly the object for which the tax is levied

CARPET STORE REMOVED —By reference to an advertisement in our columns this morning, it will be seen that Witter Brothers have removed their immense stock of Carpetings wall paper, oil cloths upholstery &c to the brick store No 110 Front street nearly opposite the head of Vaughn's wharf The upper rooms are devoted to the display of every description of carpeting, while the ground floor is occupied by the other goods in their line Their premises are well worth a visit and those in want of such goods can be accommodated both as to quality and price

THE MINER'S ALMANAC —Our neighbor Barrett is always on hand He has given us a copy of the above, which beside being a good almanac, contains more mining information than we ever saw, or supposed could be contained in a book of 80 pages Buy it every body who is going to the mines and you will know how to get the most gold or silver possible from the ore you may dig Price, 25 cents

The various Fashion Books received by every steamer, are filled, we perceive with patterns of the most elegant garments upon each and all of which we find the trimming specified as Machine Embroidery and Braiding, for cloaks, mantles, dresses, scarfs bonnets, etc , etc , no other style of trimming is so popular in Europe or America Of all Sewing Machines before the public, but one possesses the capacity for executing both these branches of ornamental sewing—the "Grover & Baker '—which can be applied not only to the general sewing necessary in a family but to embroidery and braiding in every style demanded by the public fashion

RESOLUTIONS OF THANKS —We have been requested to insert the following cards

At a meeting of the Washingtonian Society of the Portland Academy held on Saturday evening, 12th inst , the following resolution was unanimously adopted

Miles O'Reilly's Memorial.

A few weeks since the New York Herald published the dagger-ed edition of Miles O'Reilly, an Irish high private of the New York 47th volunteers, impending Admiral Dahlgren, whom he called Da'ween. For not sooner time General Halleck in as struck out Confederate and presenting the removal of Dan Sickles the Post. The poetry caused Miles' arrest and near expulsion from the guard house, with a ball and chain attached to his leg. Miles was a favorite with his fellow, and in favor with the party. Sailors and soldiers and sailors, who sympathized with him and felt for him while in prison. Miles' enemies, however, were to find fault even in a military prison. He wrote a petition to Secretary Stanton for relief, which General Halleck permitted to be forwarded, and which, we are informed, was read by Mr. Stanton to the President, who enjoyed it hugely, and at once sent a pardon to the lucky son of Erin:

MEMORIAL OF PRIVATE MILES O'REILLY, NOW AN INSTANT RESIDENCE IN THE GUARD HOUSE.

To His Excellency the Right Hon. Edwin Mastanton, Esq., an' all others whom it may concern:

Air—"The Fine Ould English Gentleman"

I'll sing to you a navy song,
Made by a soldier's pate,
Of a gallant, game ould Admiral,
Whose name is known to fame,
Because he couldn't, or didn't, or wouldn't
Some bits o' their favor steal;
For which he had several log black marks
(Whil no end of notes of mind-mutation), an' great big wiry cross-bones, almost like mine.)
On Captain Fox's slate—
The gallant, game ould Admiral,
Wan of the golden time!

'Twas he who, when our skies were dark,
Just ten mity months ago,
Left tiffs of day light through the clouds
To glorious luster flow.
"The fight is done! Port Royal won!"
Och, didn't the country crow,
An' didn't old uncle Gideon
(An' all the Administration organs, big and little, from C.H. Forney's "Philadelphia Press," down to poor ould Horace Greeley's very weakly "Tribune,")
Of the mighty victory blow
An' praise the grim ould Admiral,
An' wan of the golden time?

An' 'twas him that duck the iron-clad
Last Spring against Fort Sumter,
An' 'twas him that at seven or eight hundred yards,
Wid his fifteen inches bore right here:
An' 'twas Rhind, wid his two big rifled guns
That at half the distance thumped her—
While the present Admiral stands off,
(At the convenient perspective distance of two thousand yards or thereabouts, until even the poor brutish ruin of a place seems to go, we submit to him)
An' don't by a long shot, come t' her
So mean as the grim ould Admiral,
Who is wan of the golden time!

An' now this great ould Admiral
Is laid upon the shelf—
Like a broken chaney teapot,
Or a useless piece of delf,
Because he couldn't, or didn't, or wouldn't
(An' for this, more power to himself!)
Chime in wid them iron-clad jailers,
(Who are down on their bare knees night, noon, and mornin', prayin' Heaven or the other place for long life and success to their patron saint, Captain Fox,)
To their schames for acquirin' self—
This honest an' true ould Admiral,
This type of the bygone time!

An' because on the side of this Admiral
I used both me tongue an' me pen,
I am now chained up like a mad-dog,
In the Provost Marshal's den:
Wid a table, but that I stick an' scratches—
If it weren't for the Provost's men
Who smuggle me in—God bless the lave!—
(On the sly, d' ye see; an' just by the way o' keepin' me spirits up, an' preventin' me leg ornaments from takin' the skin off me ankles too much),
Some whiskey, now an' agen,
Which I shrink to the great ould Admiral,
Whom I knew in the bygone time!

Och! Stanton, our great "God o' War,"
Sly conniption in pity see,
An' if you have got any hearts to mill
Let them bowels be softened for me,
For I come of the descendent people
In th' beautiful town of Thrales,
Where praties an' whisky is plenty,
(And divil resave the Pr. vost Marshal we have there, at all at all, though we have specious—bad 'cess to 'em—who are worse, if such a thing were possible)—
an' they how both heart an' knee
To men like the grim ould Admiral—
A type of the golden time!

God be good to you, Misther Stanton,
An' look kindly on me case;
An' to the man with Methuselah's beard
An' the patriarchal face—
(I mains ould Uncle Gideon.)
Just ax him to show me grace,
For which I will, as in duty bound
If he gets me out o' this place—
Do for him, an' for yez all, that ever I can—
(Votin' early, an' votin' often for yez both, or for aither of you, if yez can, chance to be candidates in any district, or county, where I can get within ten rods o' the ballot box!)
An' wear my name I thrace—
Miles O'Reilly, who was of the Admiral,
An' is havin' a hard ould time.

After O'Reilly was pardoned he was allowed to go to New York on a furlough, and met with an enthusiastic reception by his old mates. He has sent a hymn of thanks to the President, beginning:

Long life to you, Misther Lincoln;
May you die both late an' airy;
An' while you die wid the top of sich toe
Turned up to the roots of a daisy,
May this be your epitaph, nately writ,
"Though traitors misuse him vilely,
He was honest an' kindly, he loved a joke,
An' he pardoned Miles O'Reilly."

OUR HAIR.—God covered the skull with hair. Some people shave it off. Mischievous practice. It exposes the brain. God covered a part of man's face with hair. Some people shave it off. Mischievous practice. It exposes the throat and lungs—the eyes likewise, say wise physiologists. Men become bald. Why? Because they wear close hats and caps. Women are never bald except by disease. They do not wear close hats and caps. Man never lose a hair below where the hat touches the head, not if they have been bald twenty years. The close cap holds the heat and perspiration; thereby the hair glands become weak; the hair falls out. What will restore it? Nothing, after the scalp becomes shiny. But if in process of falling out, or if recently lost, the following is best; Wash the head freely with cold water once or twice a day. Wear a thoroughly ventilated hat. This is the best means to arrest the loss and restore what is susceptible of restoration. What will beautify a woman's hair? Whatever will invigorate the hair glands. Cold water is best. At first the head looks like a witch, but after a few weeks it makes the hair luxuriant. By the persistent use of cold water I have seen thin, poor hair become rich and curly. Only the part of the hair next to the scalp should be wet; it must be thoroughly dried.—Dio Lewis, M. D.

HAD TO PAY WITHOUT PLAYING.—There is a good story going the rounds at the expense of a Canadian billiard player, who was unlucky enough to be the "champion of the cue" in his vicinity. Fully appreciating his own abilities, he went to Detroit to try his hand with Seereiter. On "banking" for the first shot, Seereiter won, took his cue, counted and continued to count until the game was finished, the astonished Canadian looking on with mingled admiration and wonder. At the conclusion of the game the gentleman was leaving the room, entirely crestfallen, when he [illegible] a that if the slaves were liberated they ld come to our Northern cities and dis e thousands of honest, hard-working e men. For himself, he did not anticiany such result. In his opinion it was ssible. He had always wished to see man, no matter what his color, free. Catholic Church has ever been the friend iversal freedom. It was Christ's miso set men free, and Christian people disied his precepts and example when they o uphold or perpetuate involuntary ser- [illegible] well. While absent from the kitchen, ister James set fire to his apron. This set o to a box of shavings, while the box of avings ignited the house. Being uninsured dr. Davis is out $5,000, and all caused by is attempting to make a slave of a little Yaspheny.

An explosion of grief is where one bursts s to tears.

IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY ANTICIPATE

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "direful results."

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION,"

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS

THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS,

And the melancholy deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion that

THE CONSTITUTION,

once affected by Organic Weakness,

Requires the Aid of Medicine,

to strengthen and invigorate the system, which

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

invariably does.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS

We call the attention of all having relatives or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS" will cure nine-tenths of the diseases and hardships incident to camp life. In the published almost daily in the newspapers, of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of this kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Persons suffering from disorders of the digestive organs are frequently removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among the soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following [illegible] and well authenticated cure of one of the bravest heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters."

PHILADELPHIA, August 31, 1863.

Messrs. Jones & Evans.—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. These are the facts in plain. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who can fully corroborate all of the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of the Lincoln's celebrated battery, and under the [illegible] command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through [illegible] I tendered upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in December last with inflammation of the lungs, and was in consequence two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and put [illegible] city on board the steamer State of Maine, and [illegible] landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been absent as low as one could be and still retain a spot on the [illegible] For a week or more I was scarcely able to retain anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Pain could not last under these circumstances; and accordingly the physicians who had been working [illegible] though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me to call on the Lord. I [illegible] me, and asked me to see a clergyman, and to make all the disposition of my limited funds as best suited [illegible] acquaintances who visited me at the hospital. Mr. Frederick Steenbarer, of Sixth below Arch Street, [illegible] forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly gave me a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shades of death receded, and I rapidly improved in health, getting better. Though I have taken but one bottle, I have gained ten pounds, and am [illegible] being permitted to rejoin my command, [illegible] whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months. The gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the valley of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the continuance of life which I have taken the place of vegetables, and to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of once more [illegible] sleeping to my bosom those who are dearest to my heart.

Very truly yours, ISAAC BAKER

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Baker, restored to life.
